THADDEUS STEVENS.

Funeral Services at Lancaster—Great Crowds of People—Delegations from Different Points—Order of Procession—Last Sad Rites.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LANCASTER, PA., Aug. 17, 1868.

During Saturday the remains of Thaddeus Stevens lay in state in the parlor of his late residence, and were visited by many hundreds of his friends and constituents. The street was crowded during the whole time the doors were open and up to a late hour in the evening, after which many were sent away disappointed. On Sunday, contrary to the intention, the immense press of visitors, persistent, though respectful, caused the relatives to admit many to see the remains. Early this morning the coffin was again opened and the crowd again commenced passing through the rooms. The coffin was decorated with wreathes and a cross of evergreens and white lilies. The face was becoming somewhat discolored, but the expression was the same.

Previous to the arrival of the trains the people of the vicinity began to come in by hundreds, the vehicles lining the streets and the people the sidewalks. The first train brought from Harrisburg Governor Geary, Senator Cameron, General Heintzelman, several officers of the Department and a number of citizens, and from York another large delegation. They proceeded to visit the remains, finding some difficulty in reaching the door on account of the crowd even at that early hour. Still they came, filling the streets, the scene exceeding anything witnessed here for years; but there was no confusion or disorder. The trains westward next arrived, the regular one bringing large organized delegations from various points along the route, one of which came from West Chester.

The special train from Philadelphia brought the Mayor and Councils of that city, delegations from the Invincibles and the Union League, the latter carrying a splendid banner draped in mourning, also a representation from the colored citizens of Philadelphia, including a committee from Banneker Literary Institute. The city was by this time literally filled by the vast crowd, and now the various organizations began to muster for the procession, all turning out in large numbers, and despite the difficulties incident to the crowded state of the streets, they were promptly formed by the efficient Marshal, Col. W. L. Barr.

At two o'clock the services at the house were commenced with an invocation by the Rev. A. H. Kremer, of the First Dutch Reformed Church. Rev. Bishop Bigler, of the Moravian Church, then read the 90th Psalm. Rev. E. H. Nevin followed in a prayer. The coffin was closed and conveyed to the hearse by the pall-bearers, and the procession began to move as follows:

Captain of Police and City Police.
Chief Marshal and Aids.
The Fire Department.
[The Shifflers had the left, it being the Company of which the deceased was for many years a member and officer.
The City Cornet Band.
Mayor, Councils and School Board of Lancaster.
County Officers and United States Officers of the Ninth District.
The Medical Faculty.
Members of the Press.
Trustees of the Faculty and Students of the Franklin and Marshall College and State Normal School.
Monterey Lodge of Odd Fellows.
Junior Order of American Mechanics.
West Chester Delegation.
Deputation of Colored Citizens of Philadelphia and other places.
A Representation from the Board of Aldermen from Washington City.
Republican Invincibles.
Union League of Philadelphia with Draped Banners.
Mayor and Councils of Philadelphia.
Bar of Lancaster.
Governor Geary and State Officers.
Committee of Arrangements.
Clergy.
Pall Bearers.
Hearse, attended by a Committee of Escort from Washington.
The Relatives of Deceased in Carriages.

The procession of citizens which was intended to close the procession was abandoned, as the crowd was so great as to make it impossible to form them into line and they moved in masses towards the burial ground in advance of the procession proper.

The line marched up South Queen street to Centre Square at East King to Lime, up Lime to Chestnut, down Chestnut to the Cemetery, where the various organizations divided to the right and left, and the clergy and hearse, with its attendants, passed through and the procession closed up in the rear.

Not one-tenth of the vast assemblage could find standing room within the grounds and the streets on all sides were blocked up during the progress of the ceremonies and very few of necessity could hear the voices of the speakers.

Arriving at the Cemetery the burial service of the Lutheran Church was read by the Rev. W. V. Gotwald, after which Rev. Dr. Wombert, of the St. James Episcopal Church, delivered an address.

Rev. J. F. Hurlack then read a prayer from the Lutheran burial service, after which Dr. Gray, Chaplain of the United States Senate, made the closing remarks, concluding as follows:

"And now, till the morning of the resurrection, we commit all that remains of our departed friend to the grave, and to the guardianship of that God who watches alike over the living and dead, and as the mouth of the grave closes on this sacred dust we will pray God to give to Vermont another son, to Lancaster another citizen, to Pennsylvania another statesman, to the country another patriot, to the poor another friend, to freedom another advocate, to the race another benefactor, and to the world another man like Thaddeus Stevens."

An anthem, "Rest in Peace," was sung by the choir, and the benediction pronounced by Rev. C. H. Torry, when the services closed.

The whole day was remarkably free from disorder. The number of persons in the procession and at the ceremony is estimated at fifteen thousand.

THE INDIAN TROUBLES.

United States Troops Defeated in an Engagement—Militia to be Organized.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, August 17.—A dispatch from Salmon City, Kansas, dated Sunday, says the Indians were reported to be within twenty-eight miles of that place at daybreak Saturday morning. Their strength is variously estimated at from six to fifteen hundred, and they are reported to have declared that they were going to clean out the settlements on all these streams. Women and children are coming in very fast, and the town is very nearly full of refugees.

It is creditably reported that a detachment of soldiers had an engagement with Indians, yesterday, between the Solomon and Saline rivers, in which the soldiers were whipped. Nearly all the settlers north of Asher creek were surrounded. We know of eight persons being killed. Excepting those that are surrounded, all the settlers for thirty miles along the Solomon river have been driven off.

Governor Crawford came up from Topeka to-day, and is now in Saline organizing the militia. One squad has gone from this place to the relief of those up the river. Others will go as soon as arms and ammunition arrive from Topeka.

A body of Indians are now moving toward Republican valley.

THE CAPITAL.

General Rawlings Ill—Patents Issued—Legal Revenue Difficulty—The Alaska and New Orleans Collectorships—Treaty with China—The Mexican Mission.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, August 17, 1868.

GEN. RAWLINGS ILL.

Gen. John A. Rawlings is confined to his bed, having had two hemorrhages of the lungs yesterday. He is, however, somewhat better, and it is hoped he will be out in a day or two.

NEW ORLEANS COLLECTORSHIP.

Attorney General Evarts has given an opinion that the office of Collector at New Orleans is now vacant, becoming so by his resignation and complete institution as a member of the Senate. The Constitution says the President shall have power to fill up all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions that shall expire at the end of their next session. The only doubt ever suggested on the construction of this clause of the Constitution has been in relation to the true interpretation of the phrase, "that may happen during the recess of the Senate." The subject was fully discussed by Mr. Wirt, in the year 1823, and no view or argument that could shed light upon a correct decision was omitted from his consideration of it. He arrived at the conclusion that a vacancy in office, which might be filled by the President under this clause of the Constitution, was not confined to vacancies originating to exist during the recess of the Senate, but embraces all vacancies that from any casualty happen to exist at a time when the Senate cannot be consulted as to filling them. Mr. Evarts then proceeds to examine the tenure-of-office act, the third section of which alone bears on the subject, and concludes that upon the well considered and long continued interpretation of this clause of the Constitution the President has power to fill the vacancy in the office of Collector at New Orleans by granting a commission that shall expire at the end of the next session of the Senate, and that the tenure of civil office act does not in terms, nor in intent, or in legislative construction of this clause of the Constitution, affect this power of the President in the case submitted for my opinion.

THE MEXICAN MINISTER.

Gen. Rosecrans spent part of Saturday at the State Department with Secretary Seward and received a portion of his instructions. His other instructions will be prepared previous to his departure for Mexico, which will not take place probably until the latter part of next month. The recently ratified convention for the settlement of claims having been sent to Mexico, no Commissions will be appointed under it, as stipulated, until final action upon the treaty by the Mexican Government and exchange of ratifications.

LEGAL QUESTIONS.

The section of the new tax bill prohibiting the distillation or rectifying of spirits in distilleries within six hundred feet of each other will involve several complicated legal questions, as its operations will be to suppress one of the establishments so situated. Many of the largest distilleries are in that proximity

Solicitor Binckley, of the Internal Revenue Bureau, has transmitted to Commissioner Rollins an opinion on the subject interpreting the law consistently with above statements.

ALASKA COLLECTORSHIP.

Although Attorney General Evarts has rendered an opinion on the question of the appointment of a Collector for Alaska, he says "the office should be set in operation at once, unless some legal impediment to filling it exists. I do not find it embraced within the operation of the tenure of office act. Under the accepted construction of the constitutional authority of the President, I have no doubt of his power to grant a Commission for Collector of Customs for Alaska, which shall expire at the end of the next session of the Senate."

PAYMASTERS MUSTERED OUT.

The following named additional paymasters of the army have been mustered out and honorably discharged on account of their services being no longer required: Brevet Lieut. Col. Thos. H. Gardner, Brevet Lieut. Col. W. S. Holt, and Brevet Lieut. H. P. Malcott,

Washington Topics and Gossip.

Attorney General Evarts has sent his opinion to the President, deciding that he (the President) has a right to appoint a Collector for Alaska.

Prominent Democratic leaders have prevailed upon Mr. Johnson to make a public announcement of his support of Seymour and Blair. This will occur in a speech during the President's holiday tour.

Mr. Rollins says he will not vacate his office nor withdraw his resignation. Mr. Johnson is now warmly urged to remove Mr. Rollins and appoint a Democrat.

The War Department has set aside its contract for stationery. It is charged that the firm taking the contract failed to furnish material equal to the samples. The next bidders on the original proposals, Messrs. Blanchard & Mahon, were selected to supply the Department.

The Southern members of Congress insist that a session must be held in September, in order that steps may be taken to secure the Union men of the South in their rights at the coming election.

No doubt now exists but that the future policy of this Government towards Mexico will be the establishment, at no future day, of a Protectorate over the Republic. It is probable that the Mexican government will very soon take the initiative steps in this matter by legislative action, and that the departure of Minister Rosecrans will be delayed until further information is received on the subject. It is not impossible that as a remuneration for the Protectorship, several of the Northern Mexican States, the real estate of which is now owned by citizens of the United States, will be ceded to the United States, including the Isthmus of Lower California.

Letters have been received from the Committee of five appointed by the Constitutional Convention of Mississippi to receive and count the votes at the late election in that State, to announce the result, and, if necessary, to re-convene the Convention. They do not contemplate calling the Convention together, but are about to issue a proclamation declaring the election in six counties illegal and void on account of frauds and violence used. As General Gillem refuses to recognize this Committee, they intend to call upon Congress to sustain their action and to complete the work of reconstruction in Mississippi by appropriate legislation.

A movement is on foot among the Southern politicians looking toward a call from the Southern Legislatures for Congress to re-assemble in September. They profess to have no faith that the military will be used in good faith to protect the existing State governments without further legislation, and expect, when the Presidential election arrives, to see carried into effect a most extensive system of terrorism and fraud.

McKEESPORT CAMP MEETING.

Admirable Location and Surroundings—Religious Services on the Sabbath and the Ministers Officiating—Rev. R. L. Miller Presiding Elder—Rev. Doctor Nesbit's Sermon—Visiting Ministers.

This beautiful "tented grove" is located close to McKeesport, and perhaps a mile back from the railroad and river. It derives its name from its proximity to McKeesport and the fact that it is largely represented by the people of that town and neighborhood. The meeting is under the direction of the Rev. Richard L. Miller Presiding Elder of South-east District, who resides in that town. Mr. Miller is in the first year of the Presiding Eldership, and thus far gives evidence of being the "right man in the right place." During the past two years he was pastor of the Birmingham M. E. Church. He is a young minister of much promise, and we look for a bright career in the important position assigned to him by the Church authorities. His district embraces a portion of Pittsburgh and several important suburban churches.

The ground is admirably adapted for camp-meeting purposes. It is a broad plateau of ground, pretty well shaded with forest trees, here and there nicely interlocked and supplied with plenty of water. The arrangement for seating the congregation is very good, and also for lighting up the camp inside of the circle of tents. There are more tents than last year, numbering fifty-five. Most of the tents are unusually large. The order is good, and could not well be better for such a large body of people congregated. The immediate management of the ground outside of the religious services, is in the hands of a Board of Laymen, who act under the direction of the Presiding Elder. The board comprise, some of the best citizens of the community, men of commanding influence and position, as follows: F. H. Coursin, J. F. Stevenson, James O'Neil, Stephen Bayard, Gideon Hickman, and Captain Wood. Mr. Allen Ellis, one of the members recently deceased, aided much in the preperation of the ground for the meeting. Messrs. Wm. Fawcett and his son, John O'Neil, H. Fulton, Bell, and other laymen, were active in promoting the interests of the meeting.

The Camp Meeting commenced on Thursday, but owing to the preparation of the ground and the tents, the first public service was not held until Friday morning, at half-past ten o'clock. Rev. R. L. Miller, the Presiding Elder, delivered a discourse suitable to the occasion, and just such a sermon as might be expected from the chief minister. In the afternoon, Rev. S. Y. Kennedy, of Temperanceville, delivered an interesting discourse. At night Rev. W. A. Stuart, of West Newton, preached a plain and searching sermon. The public services on Saturday were opened at eight o'clock with an excellent sermon from Rev. A. H. Norcross, of Somerset. At 10½ Rev. Dr. H. Miller, of Smithfield street M. E. Church, Pittsburgh, occupied the stand, and discoursed in his usual happy and instructive manner. Rev. J. L. Stiffey, of Redstone, occupied the stand in the afternoon much to the edification of the people. At night Rev. D. B. Campbell, of Dravo and Greenoak, addressed the people with solemn words of admonition and instruction.

The Sabbath opened up charmingly, air balmy and free from the sultry feeling usually felt at this season of the year. The day opened early, as it is customary every day while the meeting lasts, with prayer and praise in the different tents, throughout the encampment. The utterance of so many prayers, and the melody of so many songs, ascending just as the King of Day appears in his grandeur in the East, must surely be an incense offering well pleasing to God. Breakfast is then partaken and the people quickly prepare for the call to worship at the public stand.

Public services was opened at eight o'clock, with a sermon by Rev. Noble G. Miller, of Irwin's Station, who preached a short discourse in an interesting manner. The morning train, and the influx of residents in the neighborhood, augmented the congregation by the time the ten o'clock service commenced, until the ground inside of the circle of tents was well filled, numbering some thousands. This important hour was filled by Dr. S. H. Nesbit, editor of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate. He discussed for nearly an hour the great principle which governs cause and effect, and the reproductive results, in good and evil doing, "whatsoever a man sow that shall he also reap," &c. The diseourse was compact, logical, and full of sturdy thoughts. The closing words were especially touching, and awakened much tender feeling throughout the vast throng. After a recess of about two hours the people were called at two o'clock to hear Rev. Charles W. Smith discuss the undesirableness of the Mammon of unrighteousness compared with the Wisdom from above. The subject was well handled and reflected much credit on this young talented minister. A brief recess and public services were resumed—Rev. H. L. Chapman, of East Liberty occupying the stand. He presented in eloquent words the benefits derived by the Gospel of Christ. Throughout the discourse, timely illustrations were adduced, which gave edge to the points discussed. Notwithstanding a large body of people left the ground in the evening, an immense concurse assembled at night to hear the Rev. T. McCleary, of McKeesport, discourse on the unbelief of people in regard to the provision made for their salvation as revealed in the Word of God. The fearful truths bearing upon those who "neglect the great salvation" were presented in a clear and forcible style. At the close of the sermon quite a number presented themselves at the altar for religious instruction and prayer.

Among the visiting ministers we noticed the genial Rev. Dr. Pershing, of the Pittsburgh Female College, whose engagements elsewhere prevented him from remaining only during the Sabbath. Rev. Mr. Hartman, Agent of the Pennsylvania State Temperence Society, was present, and also Rev. P. M. McGovran, of East Liberty, Rev. G. Orbin, Springdale; Rev. J. J. Jones and Rev. D. Hess, Pittsburgh; Dr. Storer, Mt. Pleasant; Rev. R. T. Miller, Braddock's Fields; Rev. C. McCaslin, Fayette; Rev. N. P. Kerr, Pine Run; Rev. F. D. Fast, Chartiers.

A QUIET LIFE.

BY CHARLES G. STERNE.

I.

A little crib beside the bed,
A little face above the spread,
A little frock behind the door,
A little shoe upon the floor.

II.

A little lad with dark brown hair,
A little blue-eyed face and fair;
A little lane that leads to school,
A little pencil, slate and rule.

III.

A little blithesome, winsome maid,
A little hand within his laid;
A little cottage, acres four,
A little old-time household store.

IV.

A little family gathering round;
A little turf-heaped, tear-dewed mound;
A little added to his soil;
A little rest from hardest toil.

V.

A little silver in his hair;
A little stool and easy chair;
A little night of Famelit gloom;
A little cortege to the tomb.

He guesses that the denizens of that city burn up seventy-five millions cigars in a year, and that they cost nine and three-quarter million dollars. Then this ingenious individual estimates that if the cigars were placed end to end they would extend one and a half times across the Atlantic, or that placed side by side they would build a wall two cigars high from New York to Albany.

—In Tunis, a girl, after she is betrothed, is cooped up in a small room; shackles of gold and silver are placed upon her ankles and wrists as a piece of dress. If she is to be married to a man who has discharged, despatched, or lost a former wife, the shackles which the former wife wore are put on the new bride's limbs, and she is fed till they are filled up to the proper thickness. The food used for this custom, worthy of the barbarians, is called drough, which is of an extraordinary fattening quality. With this food, and their unnatural dish, cascassia, the bride is literally crammed, and many actually die under the spoon.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, August 17, 1868.

The general markets are devoid of anything that is really new or important worthy of special notice. We can report a fair volume of business in the aggregate, but as the demand is restricted mainly to supplying immediate wants the operations in all of the leading articles are mainly of an important character.

BUTTER—Is in good supply, and in steady demand with sales of good to strictly prime at 30 to 35.

EGGS—Continue very dull, with a supply largely in excess of the demand; we continue to quote at 16c, to 18c.

CHEESE—Is steady but unchanged at 14c to 15c for Western Reserve and Hamburg; 16c to 17c for Factory; and 19 to 20c for Sweitzer.

HAY—Is being sold from country wagons at $20 to $28 per ton, as to quality.

MILL FEED—The following are the mill prices—wholesale: Bran, $1,10; Shipstuffs, $1,30: Screenings, $1; and Middlings $2,20.

GRAIN—Wheat is coming in more freely, though the mills continue to take all that offers at $2,10 to $2,15 for Red, and $2,15 to $2,20 for White. New Oats are also arriving quite freely, and we now quote at 60 to 65c. Corn is quiet and unchanged at $1,10 to $1,12 for choice Yellow, and 3 to 5c less for mixed. Rye is wanted at $1,30 to $1,35. There is considerable inquiry for Barley, but, as yet, the arrivals have been small; we hear of several contracts having been made at $1.60 to $1,70, delivered here.

GREEN APPLES—Are becoming quite plenty, and the market is dull, with a drooping tendency; we now quote at $3 to $4,50 per bbl.

POTATOES—Quiet and unchanged at $3 to $3,50 per bbl.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in demand at $2,25. Timothy Seed Seed is quoted at $3 to $3,25, and Cloverseed at $7,50 to $8

PROVISIONS—The panic caused by the cattle plague has considerably increased the demand for the hog product,and prices are firm at the recent advance. We continue to quote at 14 for Shoulders; 16½ to 16¾ for Ribbed, and 18½ to 18¾ for Clear Sides, and 22 to 22¼ for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard 19¾ and Mess Pork $30 to $30,50.

LARD OIL—Is firm but unchanged at $1,15 for No. 2, and $1,45 for No. 1.

CARPET BEATING

ESTABLISHMENT.

Which TEN YEARS' TRIAL in New York and other Eastern cities has proved a complete success.

ITS ADVANTAGES:

1st—Fading and Shrinkage are completely avoided.
2d—No ripping apart necessary.
3d—When freed from dust, moths or their larvae, the Carpet looks nearly as good as new, save the natural fading from wear.
4th—When perfectly clean, a Carpet will wear as long again, a desirable matter as a mere point of economy, to say nothing of looks.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 146⅜.

IT SEEMS that a leopard can change his spots. BRICK POMEROY'S Democratic journal, just started in New York, is said to be surprisingly decent and subdued in its tone.

OUR financial article of yesterday appears in the WEEKLY GAZETTE to-day, with the correction of several typographical errors. It makes a document which every citizen, taking an interest in current political questions, should carry in his pocket for references.

THE President has pardoned another of the "whisky ring" scamps who were convicted at New York. The counterfeiter, defaulter, whisky-thief, or mail robber who is not pardoned out by Executive clemency, has become the exception to the almost universal rule.

THE Post says General GRANT is "in favor of extending the right hand of fellowship to our conquered fellow citizens of the South." Certainly he is, if they come as friends, and the great party that supports him are with him in this; but, when they come as enemies, threatening another rebellion, and refusing to submit to the laws of the nation, no man knows better than he how to meet them. He settled them once, and he will do it again if they don't behave themselves.

THE funeral ceremonies and the interment of the remains of the late THADDEUS STEVENS, were appropriately performed at Lancaster yesterday. The immense concourse of citizens, and the imposing character of the ceremonies attested the public respect for his memory and the deep sense of the public loss.

The occasion was also fittingly observed, in this and in many other cities of the Commonwealth, by the display of mourning flags and otherwise.

THE position of Southern affairs will have a powerful influence in any decision upon the expediency or necessity for a meeting of Congress in September. Unless the President shall previously have committed himself decidedly and irrevocably to the support of the reconstructed State authorities, we do not see how that session can well be dispensed with. It is, however, to be hoped the progress of events, for the month to come, will be in such a direction as to establish the sincere desire of the Executive to act in hearty accord with the other departments of the Government, and with the specific institutions of the people.

THE very important declarations of Chief Justice CHASE, in his recent charge to the Federal Grand Jury of West Virginia, will not be forgotten. It appears that during the same term of the Circuit Court for that State, he delivered an opinion, in a case wherein the constitutionality of the amendment to the State Constitution disfranchising rebels was brought in question, holding explicitly that "the amendment was fairly reconcilable with the Constitution and laws of the United States." Thus, that question is disposed of, in one State, and we hope the rebel Democracy, who had confidently predicted a contrary opinion, will be satisfied.

EUROPEAN FERMENT.

The Emperor NAPOLEON recently made two or three little speeches to the municipal authorities of towns where he happened to be welcomed while on a journey. An imperial speech is a species of composition which requires delicate adjustment. It must contain neither too much nor too little; must leave the way open to advance or retreat; to pursue peace or enter upon the war path. It requires a large measure of natural adroitness, combined with much experience, to so balance phrases that they may answer an immediate and pressing end, and yet be fairly susceptible of a different interpretation afterwards, under altered circumstances, or when the opportunity for explicitness patiently waited for, has arrived.

The evident object of the Emperor in the speeches referred to was to tranquilize the public mind, by creating the belief that the peace of Europe was not likely to be disturbed, at least by his procurement. His words produced an effect contrary to what he intended. In plain terms, the Emperor was not believed, but thought to be lying. There was a time when the "word of a King" was supposed to be synonymous with truth. Whether the fact actually corresponded with the general apprehension it would be fruitless as well as unnecessary to inquire. If such a time ever was it has receded so far into the past as to leave nothing but a faint and uncertain tradition of its existence. Through all the period of authentic history reigning Princes have been expected to say what they conceived to be politic rather than what they really intended. Hence diplomacy was for many ages a game of subterfuges and falsehoods, in which neither side was expected to avow the truth, or state what it desired, but to resort to all manner of circumlocutions, and and to reach the point in view, if it was reached at all, by lucky blunders.

The Bonapartes never had a reputation for sincerity, and they have deserved the reputation that is attached to them. Lying runs in their blood, and has been unsparingly used by most of them; by none more than by the present head of the family. Hence his pacific assurances are almost universally interpreted, in his own dominions and elsewhere, to portend war.

Hence neither the inhabitants of France, nor of any other country of Europe, nor of the United States, are in the least surprised at ascertaining that while NAPOLEON was making these bland and pacific protestations he was putting forth vast efforts to raise his army to the amplest war footing; purchasing supplies in unusual quantities throughout his own dominions, and sending hither for many thousands of rifles. Of course, preparations for war do not necessarily imply a foregone determination of resorting to the hazards of battle. Nations comparatively weak, and having boundaries coterminous with those of stronger powers, are often constrained to make exertions up to the full measure of their means, in order to guard against surprises or to be able to form advantageous alliances. France is not under this uncomfortable and perplexing necessity. At least the equal of any other European nation, none of her neighbors are apt to make war upon her so long as she is disposed to let them alone. Military preparations, therefore, on the part of France, beyond those of the ordinary descriptions, are held to signify a design to encroach upon the territory of some neighbor, or to domineer and dictate in questions pending between other governments. Nor is this inference or conclusion mistaken. For three quarters of a century, with brief intervals, the French rulers and people have been moved by a deep infatuation to dominate Europe; to seek to territorial aggrandisment in all possible directions, to become self-constituted arbiters in all international disputes, and to coerce weaker powers into entangling and hurtful alliances with them.

Whether Napoleon will presently break the peace of Europe depends not on his pledges to his enemies, or his allies, or his own people, but upon his opportunities. If he sees the way, through repine and carnage, to the accomplishment of any of his ambitions he will not hesitate to enter upon it, and to pursue it as far as he can or shall find it profitable.

That there are elements of combustion, in unusual quantities in most, if not all, of the monarchies of Europe, every body is aware. On the continent, while the spirit of inquiry, invoked originally by the Religious Reformers, and afterwards intensified by the Philosophic School, was finally repressed effectually in the domain of politics, it was allowed free scope and exercise, in art, in literature, in history, and in science. Most of the educated classes become deeply impregnated with it. At length it became the very atmosphere of their intellectual life. The system of investigation used in one department was introduced of necessity into all other fields of speculation; and though thinkers could not put into the form of books all they thought and felt about governments—the sources of the authority of rulers and the extent and inviolability of the rights of the people—they could not help cogitating; nor could they confine their conclusions nor the processes by which they were reached to their own bosoms. Thought is at least as subtle as electricity or magnetism, and will run spontaneously where it listeth. No fetters can enchain it; no walls circumscribe and shut it in. It runs from one to another so unconsciously that a person who stops to analyze the ongoings of his own mind is perplexed to divine how he imbibed or inculcated a particular idea. Wherever the atmosphere will penetrate, there will thought go likewise, prove just as impalpable to touch or grasp, and as potent in sustaining life and creating motion.

In this way the nations of continental Europe have progressed immeasurably in the knowledge of civil polities. In consequence of what they know they are profoundly agitated by a sense of rights denied and suppressed; by an irrepressible longing for the attainment of a better and ampler constitution of government; and by an invincible determination, when the opportune moment shall come, to risk everything for the achievement of political liberty.

This is why the monarchs are disquieted. The people are not docile and complying, as in the feudal ages. A consciousness has slowly crept over them that they owe fealty to themselves rather than to despots; to essential principles of right and justice rather than to institutions that happen to exist. When nations have reached this pitch of development, then they are in a fair way to prove formidable to whomsoever shall undertake to govern them by Divine right or in virtue of any imitation of that ancient dogma.

In England, where for the space of three hundred years, the right of the people, or, at least, of considerable classes thereof, to discuss political questions, and to participate in government, has been established, still more important advances have been made. The growth of civil liberty, even there, has been slow, but it has been certain. It is instructive to note the varying aspects of this progress. The first permanent step towards civil liberty was taken by the barons in challenging the imperial authority of the Crown, and in wresting therefrom concessions essential to their own order as well as vital to the interests of the masses of the population. After a-while the organization of the Commons was vigorously assailed, and by slow degrees one abuse after another was lopped off, and a more accurate and responsible representation of the people secured. The end of this matter is not yet.

For the last few years the efforts of the Liberals have been directed, in a large measure, to curtail the influence of the Lords in the election of the Lower House. At last, and quite lately, they have grown so bold as to plainly threaten to strip the Lords of all political prerogatives, and to so relegate them that they shall become mere appendages and ornaments of social life; and thus, create a Senate to which they shall not be eligible either by birth or appointment.

England leads the continental nations in this discussion, and conducting it with less heat and violence, has attained greater uniformity and progress. But the ultimate end cannot be far off, measuring not by the life-time of individuals but of peoples.

JEFFERSON AND MODERN DEMOCRACY.

Among the truths which our country declared to be self-evident on the day in which it took its place among the nations of the earth this stands first and chief—

"ALL MEN ARE CREATED EQUAL."

This was no rhetorical flourish, as slaveholders subsequently contended, but the deep and settled conviction of the great and generous men who signed the Declaration of Independence, as it certainly was that of THOMAS JEFFERSON, who originally drafted that eloquent and solemn state paper.

It is true that some men were at that day in the condition of slavery; and no man then living more sincerely lamented that fact than THOMAS JEFFERSON, as his writings abundantly attest, and with almost prophetic ken he foresaw and spoke of the impending wrath of Heaven on account of the great wrong. "I tremble for my country," he said, "when I remember that God is just." We have seen and felt what he feared.

JEFFERSON was long spoken of as "the father of Democracy." This was claiming too much; for Democracy, in its true sense, is a PRINCIPLE, a thing of which no man can rightfully claim the paternity. But he was certainly among the earliest and truest of Democrats, and the essence, the fundamental axiom, of his political faith is embodied in the brief clause quoted above. His democracy was a consistent thing—his language and his life and habits were in conformity with it; and his other famous declaration, "We are all Republicans, we are all Federalists," was verified in the history of his times; for in his day all freemen, white and colored, were made equal in the right of suffrage and in every other right. In twelve of the thirteen original States—in some of which the Democratic (or as it was then generally called, the Republican) party preponderated, in others the Federal party, colored men voted just as white men did. South Carolina was the only exception.

We often think with what ineffable scorn Mr. JEFFERSON, were he now living, would regard the course of the men who have the impudence to claim to be his followers and of his party—men who, instead of deploring the existence of slavery, as he did, for years defended it and did all that they could do to strengthen, extend and perpetuate it; and who, even after it had been stricken to the earth under the blended wrath of God and man, because it had arrayed itself against the life of the nation, did all they could to restore to vitality its miserable remains, by voting almost to a man against the constitutional amendment decreeing its total and final abolition. And what would JEFFERSON think of the slang that we hear from the lips of professed democrats, such as —"This is a white man's government?"

In the eyes of the so-called Democracy of the present day, color is the only criterion of merit or demerit. Men may be traitors and enemies to the Government; their hands may be stained with the blood of their countrymen slain in their wicked and inexcusable rebellion; the blood of unarmed victims may be resting upon their souls; the infamy of having systematically starved to death thousands upon thousands of prisoners of war may cover them as with a dark and damning mantle; and, worse than all, they may still boast of these atrocities, as they actually do, yet, if their outside skins are what are called white, that is enough, as they contend, to restore them to political power, to the total exclusion of other men, who happened to be differently colored, who, with hardly an exception, stood true to their country's flag in that awful struggle, thousands of whom fought for it, and many of whom perilled their own lives to feed, succour and guide the soldiers of the Union whom the fortunes of war had thrown captives into the hands of their cruel white foes. Such is the blind, barbarous, senseless rule upon which the party — some impudently, some ignorantly—profess to be treading in the footsteps of THOMAS JEFFERSON. White and black, light and darkness, heaven and hell, are not more opposite than are the teachings of THOMAS JEFFERSON from those of the present leaders of what is called the Democratic party.

To this great truth, so solemnly uttered on the day of its birth, we may be sure that the God of Truth and Justice will hold this nation. It is nonsense for politicians to pretend that only white men were meant; for they know, or ought to know, that JEFFERSON and his compeers meant no such thing; and our God, by late tremendous judgments, has taught us, if we are not too stupid and obstinate to learn, that he meant no such thing.

HON. GALUSHA A. GROW.

The Post, yesterday, contained an article from which we make the following extract:

"Mr. Grow belongs to that class of men of whom the Democratic party has from time to time been purged, and who deserted and entered the Radical camp, with all THE MORAL OBLIQUITIES AND CONSTITUTIONAL DEPRAVITY requisite to form ready-made leaders among their new associates. Butler, Cameron, Kelley, Forney, and many others that might be named, with Grow, make up the roll of these mercenary apostates, who DISDAIN THE RESTRAINTS OF HONOR OR VIRTUE; who make ostentatious professions of patriotism, but it is of the kind defined by Dr. Johnson; 'who snuff it afresh on the distance, and readily sacrifice friends, party, principles, truth, morals, laws, Constitution and liberty itself in the eager pursuit of it; who are hypocrites as abolitionists and intensely scorn the association of negroes; who joined in the higher law cry and entered upon the crusade against slavery, looking for the inevitable result which such a breach of the compact on which the Union of the States was formed, must produce—civil war, commotions, confusions, UNDER COVER OF WHICH ROBBERY AND PILLAGE, TO AN INDEFINITE EXTENT, could be perpetrated without fear of detection."

Having lived in almost the same neighborhood with Mr. GROW for nearly a quarter of a century, and for that while known him well in all the relations of public and private life, we feel constrained to particularize the two accusations made against him by our contemporary, and to submit a few comments on each:

1. That he is conspicuous for "moral obliquities and constitutional depravity;" and "disdains the restraints of honor and virtue."

This is an unfounded, wanton and criminal calumny. There is no warrant for it in facts, and no excuse for it in political rivalry and animosity. From his youth up, Mr. GROW has led an orderly, correct and virtuous life. His private deportment and his public conduct are without stain. Honest, truthful, manly, this is the first imputation cast upon his reputation in the whole course of a long and conspicuous career; and this imptation is not only unsustained by facts, but is absolutely contradicted, and branded as infamous, by abundant facts within the cognizance of tens of thousands of the citizens of the Commonwealth.

2. That he has been concerned in "robbery and pillage, to an indefinite extent."

This is a serious incrimination, but no specifications or proofs are brought forward to sustain it. A more flagrant and inexcusable libel was never perpetrated. Mr. GROW was never wealthy, and is as far from being rich to-day as he was when he entered Congress. Without a personal vice, with no expensive habits, averse to luxurious indulgences, unostentatious and frugal, he has remained, as he started, comparatively poor. No "wedge of gold," and no "Babylonish garment" have been found upon him; and whoever alleges the contrary is a willful calumniator.

TIME'S CHANGES are passing wonderful. In the pro-slavery days, ten, twenty or thirty years ago, the Democratic leaders throughout the North steadily appealed to white working men to resist the abolition of Slavery on the ground that if the slaves should be liberated they would flock northward of MASON'S and DIXON'S line, labor for lower wages than the whites, and absolutely drive them to the wall in all the leading departments of industry. A good many whites were weak enough to believe, or at least to profess to believe, this nonsense.

Now, the table is turned. A few days ago General WADE HAMPTON addressed a meeting of black citizens. His chief argument he put in these words:

"The white man will bring other white men into the country, who will work cheaper than the colored men. In a few years they will have occupied every foot of ground where you now dwell. They will be hired to the owners of the land, and gradually, but peacefully and surely, they will spread over the country, and the colored man will be driven out, and will disappear as the Indian has disappeared, before the onward march of the white man; it is the law of God, and will be so as sure as there is a God in Heaven."

Democracy has matchless assurance! Northern laborers are no longer in danger of an inundation of Southern blacks; but the blacks are in imminent peril of being overwhelmed by a deluge of white laborers rushing from the North to the South! Can impudence go any farther?

Mr. HAMPTON and the rest of the patriarchs used to justify Slavery on the ground that the whites could not labor in the Southern States by reason of the unsuitableness of their constitutions to the climate; and we used to retort that where a particular variety of men could not perform the active duties of life, there they had no right to be. Does he mean to confess that he and they were lying then, or to excite something more than a suspicion that he is lying now?

The black race stood contact with the white under all the disadvantages of Slavery, and gave no signs of dying out, but multiplied exceedingly. Endowed with Freedom the black race is destined to exhibit increased vitality, no matter what Mr. HAMPTON may predict. That gentleman professes great familiarity with GOD and His laws, but is in profound ignorance of both.

IT IS said that Mr. JOHNSON is about to indulge himself in "swinging around a small circle," in the course of which he will make "a few remarks" in favor of SEYMOUR and BLAIR. In view of the impossibility of securing the aid of WADE HAMPTON, FORREST and ZEB VANCE, by the repetition of their recent speeches at the North, the Republicans will try to be satisfied with these "remarks," which will not fail to be of good service to the cause of GRANT and the Union.

THERE are over thirteen hundred Grant Clubs in Ohio, and the number is increasing rapidly.

THE commission charged with the selection of a site for a City Park yesterday received a proposal from Mr. PHILIP WINEBIDDLE, offering to dispose of his property on the Greensburg pike, within the city limits, at a reasonable valuation to be hereafter fixed, provided an agreement is entered into that no intoxicating beverages shall ever be drank upon the premises. Mr. WINEBIDDLE has never before consented to sell any of his desirable possessions in that neighborhood to private purchasers, but with considerable public spirit has determined to dispose of his land to the city in order that a suitable breathing spot may be provided for our overcrowded population. If the land is finally chosen and Winebiddle Park established, the people cannot have much cause for complaint, as the ground is admirably situated for such purposes.

THE Post yesterday contained the following significant paragraph:

"We are not disposed to tell all we know in relation to the organization of the Democracy in this county, but we can safely assert that never up to this time has there been the same amount of work done by the party."

How mysterious! "Not disposed to tell all we know." Alas, for the Grant and Colfax interest, the Post won't tell how many Ku-Klux-Klans are organized throughout the county! We can tell the story, however, and won't ask the Post to enlighten its readers. The Democracy never were so poorly organized and the lack of enthusiasm for SEYMOUR and BLAIR forces our neighbor to assume a mysterious air and make readers believe that the public have no proper idea of the efforts being put forward in the interests of the Democracy. Good Mr. Post, try some less palpable dodge.

IN 1864, the Democracy at Chicago resolved that the then existing war was a failure. In 1868, at New York, they declared the present existing peace to be a failure, and seem anxious to have another fight. But next November we intend to teach them that of all the failures they ever dreamed of, their attempt to restore their traitorous party to power is the most complete. They tried to do this by the force of slavery; and when that failed, they tried it by the force of armed treason and a long and bloody war. That, too, failed; and now they have nothing to fall back upon but their piteable record as sneaking Copperheads and whipped rebels. This last will be a failure indeed, and the party will go down to its place, to plague the nation no more.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK of Bennington, which was robbed on Saturday night is located in a private house, as the new bank building is not completed, and the funds are kept in a little safe. The burglars picked one lock of the safe, but could not pick the second, which would have given them $10,000 in addition to the $20,000 they had already secured. The robbery was not discovered until the next afternoon, when experts were at once summoned from Troy, New York, to open the lock, the outside knob having been broken off by the burglars and lost. The bank loses $12,000, E. A. Cobb, the cashier, $3,500, and L. Chandler about $4,000. No clue has yet been obtained to the burglars.

IS YOUR DISEASE RHEUMATISM?

Many persons, supposing they are suffering from this disease, have applied Liniments, Plasters and other Rheumatic Remedies without obtaining any relief, when in fact the cause of pain is a derangement of the Kidneys. These are small organs, but very important, and any obstruction or interference with its functions are indicated by pain in the back and loins, languor and weakness, difficulty in avoiding and unnatural color of the urine. A Diuretic should t once be resorted to.

DR. SARGENT'S

THE BODY RENEWED.

According to Physiologists, the human body is renewed once in seven years. Every day, every hour, every moment, the flesh, the cartilage, bone and muscle of the frame are wasting away, and being imperceptibly replaced by new material. Health depends upon the nature of that material, and whether it shall be pure or diseased, full of vitality and elasticity, or feeble and flaccid, depends mainly upon the action of the stomach. In warm weather the waste of the system is very rapid, and if it is not as rapidly repaired by the great sustaining organ, the consequence is debility, emaciation and decay. It is, therefore, of paramount importance that the stomach be kept in a vigorous condition at this trying season, and the safest, surest and best tonic that can be employed for that purpose is HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. This incomparable vegetable stomachic gives unwonted energy to the digestive powers, promotes the conversion of the food into healthful blood, (which is, so to speak, the raw material of all the solid portions of the body,) and thereby puts the system in the best possible state of defence against epidemic or other diseases. The strong require it to keep up their strength; the weak, to re-invigorate them. It consists of the purest of all diffusive stimulants, charged with the juices and extracts of the most genial roots and herbs, and is a permanent restorative—not a mere temporary excitant. It acts simultaneously upon the stomach, the bowels and the liver, and is the best known remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness, costiveness and general debility.

CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE EAR.

In observations and notes taken by Dr. KEYSER, of this city, on the various diseases of the ear, he says that nine out of ten cases could be cured in their incipiency if application were made to some responsible and competent aural surgeon. The Doctor quotes from the opinion of Wilde, a well known aural surgeon, who says: "I fear not to reiterate the assertion which I made on several former occasions, that if the disease of the ear were as well studied or understood by the generality of practitioners, and as early attended to as those of the eye, it would be found that they were just as much within the pale of scientific treatment. * * Deafness is so common and so distressing an infirmity, and when of long standing so incurable, that we cannot too strongly urge all medical practitioners to make themselves familiar with the treatment of the diseases of the ear."

The Doctor says that nearly all annoying Discharges, Buzzings and Morbid Growths peculiar to the organ of the hearing, some of which had lingered through a score or two of years, can be cured or ameliorated by proper treatment.

☞ THE APPETITE FOR

Tobacco Destroyed!

Leave off Chewing and Smoking the Poisonous Weed, Tobacco.

One box of ORTON'S PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to destroy the appetite for tobacco in any person, no matter how strong the habit may be, ☞ IF IT FAILS IN ANY CASE THE MONEY WILL BE REFUNDED. It is almost impossible to break off from the use of tobacco by the mere exercise of the will. Something is needed to assist nature in overcoming a habit so firmly rooted; with the help of the preparation there is not the least trouble. Hundreds have used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact that ORTON'S PREPARATION completely destroys the appetite for tobacco and leaves the person as free from any desire for it as before he commenced its use. It is perfectly safe and harmless in all cases. The Preparation acts directly upon the same glands and secretions affected by tobocco, and through these upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing the poison of tobacco from the system, and thus allaying the unnatural cravings of tobacco.

NO MORE HANKERING FOR TOBACCO AFTER USING ORTON'S PREPARATION! RECOLLECT IT IS WARRANTED. BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession:

[From W. P. Heald, Esq., Bangor, Me.]

BANGOR, Me., April 24, 1868.

I hereby certify that I have used tobacco for thirty years past, and for the last fifteen years I have used two pounds per month. I have made attempts to leave off at different times. I have left off one year in a case, but always continued to hanker for it until I used Orton's Preparation, which has completely cured me of the appetite for tobacco. I would recommend all who are affected with this terrible habit to try the preparation, which will certainly cure it if the directions are followed.

W. P. HEALD.

[From E. W. Adkins, Knoxville, Tenn.]

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., August 5, 1867.

This is to certify that I had used tobacco to such an extent that my health had become greatly impaired, and my whole system deranged and broken down. In June, 1867, I purchased one box of Orton's Preparation, and after using it I found that I was completely cured. I have not had any hankering or desire for tobacco since using the preparation. I believe it to be all that it is recommended, and I would advise all who wish to quit the use of tobacco to try one box of Orton's Preparation.

E. W. ADKINS.

[From John Morrill, Bangor, Me.]

BANGOR, Me., March 24, 1868.

This is to certify that I have used tobacco for eighteen years; have tried many times to leave off, but have suffered so much from a distress in my head, and gnawing at my stomach, that I have soon given up the trial. A short time since a friend induced me to try Orton's Preparation (sold by you.) I have done so, and am completely cured. I did not in the least hanker after tobacco, either to smoke or chew, after I began to use the Preparation.

JOHN MORRILL.

Price of ORTON'S PREPARATION Two Dollars per box, forwarded to any part of the country, post paid, on receipt of price. Money sent by mail at our risk. Address,

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, August 17, 1868.

The efforts of the bull clique to advance the premium on gold utterly failed to-day; the market opened strong to-day at 147¼, declined to 147 and suddenly broke to 146¾; closing at 146½, dull. The clique has succeeded on last Friday, to dispose of a large amount of gold at between 147½ to 148 and the amount they now hold is quite small, failing to underly advance the premium, their pre-arranged plans, are laid for drooping the market to entrap short sales and discourage outsiders from buying—a sufficient amount of money, howeveri has been secured at low rates to advance the price so soon as politics become more excited. The Government bond market looks very weak, and in the entire absence of buyers lower prices will have to be made to attract investors.

The stock market was very weak and dull to-day, and prices point towards lower rates, although the market rallied at the close. Western speculators were pretty well stuck with stocks at high prices, and and the cliques feel more easy, otherwise prices would have gone down and a panic might have ensued. It is reported by parties, well-informed, that the market is going to be ralled again in order to attract more purchasers for a supposed rise, thus far they will succeed depends only on the ability of the western men to buy, they are ready and eager to cover their losses.

Mining shares remain firm and unchanged. Business is gradually improving. Money easy.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, August 17, 1868.

CATTLE.

There was again a very full supply of Cattle on sale to-day, and with only a moderate local demand and but little inquiry for shipment, the market was a little heavy, and when we left the yards (half past ten) it looked as though there would be quite a number left over unsold. The great proportiou of the Cattle on sale this week were from Ohio and Pennsylvania, with two or three small droves from Indiana and Kentucky; so far as we could learn, there was not a single bullock here from Illinois, and until the cattle plague excitement has entirely died out, the fewer that are brought here from that State the better. There is a very strong feeling against cattle coming from that State, as it was there the infected cattle came from, and while we have no doubt but what there are plenty of sound and healthy Cattle in Illinois, our butchers prefer buying Cattle from some other locality; it is a well-known fact that previous to the panic in consequence of the Cattle disease, the best beef Cattle in this market came from Chicago, and they brought a bigger price than other Cattle on sale, while since the time above referred to, Illinois stock has been at a discount.

Prime to extra butchers Cattle sold today at from 7¼ to 7¾, though it should be borne in mind that nothing but the very best Cattle brought these figures. We are cognizant of good retailing Cattle having been sold at 6½ to 7c, and many of what are considered our best butchers are not paying above these figures. Stock Cattle, for which there is a moderate demand, may be quoted at 3½ to 5c, according to quality and condition. Bulls, of which there were a fair supply, sold at from 2½ to 3¼c.

Cullen sold 17 head of prime Indiana steers to Moses & Co. at 7½.

Boswell to Duffy 26 head of common mixed Indiana stock at 4 to 5¾.

Woodward to Duffy 6 head Indiana bulls and stags at 3½ to 5.

Wick & Co. 31 head of common Butler county stags and heifers at 3½ to 4½.

Rothchilds & Katz 20 head of mixed Tuscarawas county stock at 5 to 7.

L. Rothchilds sold 30 head of good to prime Washington county steers at 6 to 7,50; 22 head Butler county steers and heifers at 5 to 6,75.

M. Verner sold 18 head of Ohio steers for Campbell at 5 to 6,50.

Taylor sold 21 head of commonish stock to Verner at 5½; who retailed the same cattle at 5 to 6.

C. A. Thayer sold 20 head Western Reserve cows and heifers at 4 to 5,25.

Kraus & Haas sold 51 head Ohio cattle at 5 to 6,75.

Myers & Needy sold 66 head of Ohio stock at 5 to 7.

Hazlewood & Blackstock sold 39 head for Campbell at 5 to 7; 20 for Shomaker at 5,50 to 7,75; 18 for Shepard at 5 to 6—all from Ohio.

Greenwald & Kahn sold 39 head good Ohio steers at 6 to 7,85; 20 head Penna. stock at 5 to 6; 13 from Butler county for Emmell & Co. at 3 to 5.

S. Marks & Bro. 20 head of prime Kentucky steers at 7 to 7,50; 17 Ohio steers at 5,50 to 6,50.

S. Traurman 76 head—61 from Washington county, and 15 head from Ohio, at 5,50 6,75.

Holmes, Lafferty & Co. 92 head mixed stock, all on commission, at 4,25 to 6,50.

Hedges & Taylor sold 20 head for Keenan at 5,25 to 6; 20 for Keener at 5,50 to 6,50; 36 head, for other parties, at 5 to 5,50.

L. & J. Shamberg 10 head Penna. stock—price not given.

Host 10 head at 4 to 4,75. J. Davis 2 head unsold.

Stakely & Bro. 29 head of fairish Penna. steers at 5,50.

The total number of Cattle reported sold reached eight hundred and fifty-six head; now we have no doubt there were fully one hundred head left over, so that the whole number of Cattle on sale would foot up nine hundred and fifty head, against about seven hundred last week.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

There was again a very large supply of Sheep and Lambs on sale to-day, every spot being full to overflowing, and the market was an exceedingly hard one, and a large number would have to be left over unsold. Notwithstanding this, however, there were but really few prime fat Sheep in market, and those who were so fortunate as to have good mutton Sheep experienced no difficulty in selling, and that, too, at good prices. Common and inferior grades, however, were exceedingly dull, and, as a general thing, the butchers bought at their own prices, say from 2½ to 3c per pound, or from $1,50 to $2,50 per head; some few good fat Sheep sold at from $3,50 to $4 per head. The sales reported were as follows:

Anderson wholesaled 120 head, averaging 90 lbs, to Deitrich, at 3,15.

J. R. Pringle 94 head common Mercer county Sheep at $1 to $1,50 per head.

Bannon sold 42 Lambs for Douglas at $2 to $2¼ per head, and had 62 head Sheep for Heckathorn, unsold.

Beeler reports having sold 80 head at $4 for Sheep, and $2 for Lambs.

Flinner & Sheitamentle 220 head Sheep and Lambs at $1 to $2,50.

Emmell, Fowler & Co. 400 head; sold Sheep at $1,50 to $2,75, and Lambs at $1,50 to $2,50.

Stakely & Bro. 200 head; sold Sheep at $2 to $3, and Lambs at $1,50 to $2,50.

Adam Eckert 94 Lambs at $1 to $3 per head.

Kauffman 98 head Washington county Sheep at $2 to $4 per head.

Welsh 39 head; sold 16 head at $2,75.

Grier sold 50 head Sheep at $1,50; expected to sell 150 head more at $1.

J. Rinn sold 70 head at 2½ to 3¼; 265 unsold; had an offer of $1,25 der head.

Wick & Co. 50 head Sheep at $1 to $2.

J. F. Neely 96 Lambs at 75c to $2,25.

E. D. Emery 130 from Lawrence & Co.; sold Sheep at $1,50 to $5, and Lambs at $1 to $2,25.

Seymour & Co., had 200 head, Sheep and Lambs, which it was expected would have to be driven out to pasture again.

Shaw wholesaled 70 head Lambs to Seymour & Co., at $1,25 per head.

Lindsay reports having sold 26 head sheep at $3,25, and 126 head Lambs at same figure.

HOGS.

The Hog market is quiet and unchanged. The demand at these yards is almost enterely of a retail character, and we quote in a retail way, at from 9½ to 10¾, gross for to prime heavy averages.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBUGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, August 17, 1868.

CRUDE—The crude market was considerably firmer to-day than it was on Saturday, and spot oil is higher. Sale of 3,000 bbls, on spot, at 13¾; 183 (bbls returned) at 13c; and—on Saturday evening—1,000 bbls, to be delivered between now and September 1st, at 12¾. The better feeling in Crude may be attributed, we presume, to a slight improvement in Refined, as well as to the fact that the stock of spot oil is pretty well reduced, and the offerings are light. Since the opening of railroad communication between here and Oil City, there is not the same chance for Crude dealers to spring an advance that there was previous; then, when the river got down those who held oil could control the market, while now the refiner, if he cannot buy here, can order all that he wants from Oil City. A prominent dealer and speculator asserted to-day that if it was not for railroad communication, oil would now command seventeen cents, and, we believe, he is right.

REFINED—Was also considerably firmer to-day, than it was on Friday and Saturday, though the market was devoid of excitement, and the sales were small. We can report 1,000 bbls for the last half of August at 33¼; and 500 eaeh for September and October, at 33¾. We heard of an offer to sell a line from September to December at 33½, without finding a buyer. No sales of spot oil reported, in the absence of which we quote nominally at 33. It was reported late in the afternoon, that 33½, might possibly be detained for the last half August.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

Save Your Plums.

"I have had some experience in the raising of plums. In my former efforts, when I let them take care of themselves, my trees produced nothing but a crop of worms and disappointment. But for the last three years I have succeeded in raising as full and fine a crop of plums as could be desired. My treatment was this:

In the spring, as soon as the blossoms began to fall from the fruit, I prepared a large sheet-iron on which were placed a few chips or anything that would burn readily, and after they had commenced burning freely, smothered the blaze down with grass, which produced a dense smoke. This I would carry around under the trees, and perfectly befog the entire top, every branch, with smoke. I made this application of smoke each evening and morning, and continued it until about the first of July. Fresh grass should be frequently added, so as to continue a heavy volume of smoke.

I think the advantage derived from the smoke is from the coating which it deposits upon the fruit, leaves and branches, and producing a scent which is offensive to such insects as are wont to prey upon the young fruit. But whatever the effect of smoke may be, it has been a successful protection to the fruit during my three years' experiment, I always gave my trees a thorough smoking; I doubt the success of homeopathic treatment in such cases."—F. Maloy.

Excellent results have been produced by fumigating fruit trees thoroughly with coal tar, the residuum of gas works. An old fashioned frying pan, with a long handle, is an excellent implement for this purpose, as it enables the operator to move the burning tar about from point to point without personal exposure to the fumes. We have seen fine crops of plums, cherries and apples grown in yards and gardens, under this discipline, where all previous attempts had failed. The fumigation should be applied in the evening or early in the morning, and should be continued as often as twice a week from the time blossoms appear until the fruit has distinctly formed; say, for four weeks.

So, too, we have seen the best effects from the use of lime upon and about plum trees. During the whole period of efflorescence, and until the fruit has attained the size of a large pea, the ground under the trees and the foliage upon them should be sprinkled with lime. The best way to reach the foliage is to get a light pole of sufficient length to reach the top, at the small end of the pole tie a bag made of any cloth through which the lime will readily sift out. This bag should contain a quart or two of lime. While the dew is on the leaves they may readily be whitened by shaking the pole over them so as to let the lime out of the bag. When the lime happens to be washed off by rains, it should be renewed next day. By this process we have seen trees that had remained fruitless for successive years brought into full bearing and kept there. -[EDS. GAZETTE.

Nice Summer Drinks.

Ginger Pop.—Take three-quarters of a pound of white sugar, one ounce of cream of tartar, the juice and rind of a lemon, one ounce of bruised ginger, put the whole into a pan, and pour over it four quarts of boiling water; let it stand till lukewarm, and then add a tablespoonful of yeast. When it has ceased boiling, bottle it off in small soda water bottles or jars. It will be fit for use in twenty-four hours.

Imperial.—Another recipe for a very refreshing and wholesome beverage, if either heated from the weather or feverish from indisposition; Put into a jug that will contain three pints half an ounce of cream of tartar, the juice of a lemon, and the rind, pared very thin; pour boiling water over these, and add sugar to taste. When cold it is fit for use.

Cherry Effervescing Drink.—Take a pint of the juice of bruisod cherries, filter until clear, and make into a syrup with half a pound of sugar; then add an ounce of tartaric acid, bottle and cork well. To a tumbler three parts full of water add two tablespoonsful of the syrup, and a scruple of carbonate of soda; stir well, and drink while effervescing.

Lemonade au Lait.—The juice of seven lemons, which will produce about half a pint; the same quantity of white wine, three quarters of a pound of loaf sugar, and a quart of boiling water; mix, and when cold add a pint of boiling milk; let it stand twelve hours then strain through a jelly bag.

Take five pounds of lump sugar, two ounces of citric acid, one gallon of boiling water; when cold, add half a drachm of essence of lemon, and half a drachm of spirits of wine; stir it well, and bottle it. About two table spoonfuls to a glass of cold water.

Two table spoonfuls of Scotch oatmeal put into a large tumbler or small jug, and filled up with clear, cold water, well stirred up, and allowed to settle only until the large particles of meal fall to the bottom, forms a most refreshing drink in hot weather, and it quenches thirst more than any liquid.

Take one pound of finely powdered loaf sugar, one ounce of tartaric or citric acid, and twenty drops of essence of lemon. Mix immediately and keep very dry. Two or three spoonsful of this, stirred briskly into a tumbler of water, will make a very pleasant glass of lemonade.

A Chapter on Tomatoes.

[From the Germantown Telegraph.]

I send you my ways of disposing of the tomato, which I call the vegetable of vegetables. If any of your housekeepers can add to or improve this list I trust they will do so. I am by no means prejudiced in my own mode of doing things, and if I can aid any one in using the tomato in many ways to advantage I shall be content.

Stewed Tomatoes—I shall say nothing about stewing tomatoes, as it is to be presumed that every body knows how. One thing, however, should be remembered, that nothing should be mixed with the pure article, which should pass through a sieve or colander before being sent to the table.

Tomato Catsup—Take ripe tomatoes and scald them just sufficient to allow you to take off the skin; then let them stand for a day, covered with salt; strain them thoroughly, to remove the seeds. Then to every two quarts add three ounces of cloves, two of black pepper, two nutmegs, and a little salt. Boil the liquor for half an hour, and then let it cool and settle. Add a pint of the best cider vinegar, after which bottle it, corking and sealing it tightly. Keep it always in a cool place.

Tomato Omelets.—Beat six eggs, mix two tablespoonsful of flour in a little water, and add some salt and pepper, peel and chop very fine four tomatoes, stir this all together. Put a bit of butter half the size of an egg into a frying pan, heat it hot, turn on the mixture, stirring all the time until it begins to thicken, then let it stand to brown three minutes; lap it half over; slip it on a dish, and send it to the table very hot.

Pickled Tomatoes.—Always use those which are thoroughly ripe. The small round ones are decidedly the best. Do not prick them, as most recipe books direct. Let them be in strong brine three or four days, then put them down in layers in your jars, mixing with them small onions and pieces of horse raddish; then pour on the vinegar cold, which should be first spiced as for peppers let there be a spice-bag to throw into every pot. Cover them carefully, and set them by in the cellar for a full month before using.

How to make Tomato Figs.—Pour boiling water over the tomatoes in order to remove the skins; then weigh them and place them in a stone jar, with as much sugar as you have tomatoes, and let them stand two days; then pour off the syrup, and boil and skim it until no scum rises. Then pour it over the tomatoes, and let them stand two days as before, then boil and skim again. After the third time, they are fit to dry, if the weather is good; if not, let them stand in the syrup until drying weather. Then place on large earthern plates or dishes, and put them in the sun to dry, which will take about a week, after which pack them down in small wooden boxes, with fine white sugar between each layer. Tomatoes prepared in this manner will keep for years.

Tomato Preserves.—Take the round yellow variety as soon as ripe, scald and peel; then to seven pounds of tomatoes add seven pounds of white sugar, and let them stand over night. Take the tomatoes out of the sugar, and boil the syrup, removing the scum. Put in the tomatoes, and boil gently fifteen or twenty minutes; remove the fruit again and boil until the syrup thickens. On cooling put the fruit into jars and pour the syrup over it, and add a few slices of lemon to each jar, and you will have something to please the taste of the most fastidious.

The Crops.

Full details by telegraph from all parts of the country, of the condition of the crops, are published. On the whole these reports are cheerful. The following facts are deduced:

WHEAT.—This crop is larger than last year in West Virginia, Indiana, Ohio, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Utah, Montana, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maine, Massachusetts, Connecticut and New Hampshire, and the quality is regarded as excellent. In Georgia, South Carolina, Alabama and Texas the reports are not so good, the yield being indifferent. In Louisiana, Arkansas, Kentucky, Mississippi, Maryland, Southwestern Virginia, Central Tennessee, North Carolina, Delaware and Vermont, the crop has been an average one.

CORN.—From all sections of the country we hear that this crop is very large, and the quality remarkably good. The yield this year will be fully one-third more than last. This is especially so in the Southern States.

OATS.—In Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia, Indiana, Missouri, Kansas, Ohio, Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Vermont, New York and Illinois, especially in the latter States, the yield is large; while in Louisiana, Mississippi, Georgia, Florida, South Carolina and other Southern States it will not be more than an average. The rains we have had lately have injured the crops in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and Maine, and the yield will be less than usual.

BARLEY.—The crop will be an average one.

HAY.—More than the average crop will be realized. In Pennsylvania, New York, Indiana, Ohio, New Jersey, Delaware, and Maryland the yield is very large and of excellent quality.

COTTON.—The reports about cotton are very encouraging. Fully an average yield is expected. In parts of Florida the caterpillar is doing some damage.

SUGAR—Promises well, but very little was planted.

FRUITS—Are almost a total failure, especially in the Middle States. The Peach crop will not be half what it was last year. In the extreme South it looks better. In New York, Apples look better than almost anywhere else.

THE POTATO CROP—Is generally large and good.

HOPS.—A heavy mildew and lice have killed Hops in Pennsylvania,

Thrashing Grain.

"The best of men are none the worse for a little watching." This is true of that important class of men, "the thrashers." The work is generally done by the bushel. Last year, owing to the anxiety of farmers to thrash early, under the idea that the price of wheat would decline, six and seven cents a bushel was paid.

Of course the thrashers are desirous of doing the work as rapidly as possible, and this is very well, especially as the farmer has to furnish six horses and half a dozen or so of men, besides the four horses and four men that accompany the machine; but owing to their anxiety to "hurry up," it is well to see that the grain is all thrashed out of the straw, and also that it is separated from the chaff, and not carried on to the stack by the straw-carrier. The "boss thrasher" is generally a "gentleman of leisure," who sees that everything is right. Would it not be well if the farmer himself, instead of working harder than any of the other men, should hire an extra hand and merely look after things? High as wages are, one bushel of wheat saved would pay for a man that could cut bands or throw sheaves from the bay nearly, if not quite, as fast and as well as himself. Of all the days in the year, thrashing day is the time for the farmer to see that everything is done as it should be. This is work enough for one man, which should be the farmer.

THE Association of the German Press of Pennsylvania, consisting of the German editors, publishers, many German ministers, teachers, professors, and other friends of education in the State, have published a memorial in which they propose to secure the introduction of tuition in the German language in public schools.

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where from pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

Tom Burke Arrested.—Tom Burke, one of the parties who participated in the prize fight Saturday night, an account of which we published yesterday, was arrested last evening by officers McElwain, Fowler and Bell of the Mayor's police, on a warrant issued by Alderman Johns, on oath of Ellen Anschutz charging him with disorderly conduct. She alleged that he came into her residence and acted in a very disorderly manner. After a hearing in default of bail he was committed to jail. He behaved himself very disorderly in the Alderman's office, and when the officers started with their prisoner, a crowd of "roughs" followed them and attempted to rescue him, but were foiled in their attempts by the officers using their maces freely.

Abused a Woman.

Thomas Williams made information before Alderman Johns yesterday, charging Norah McBride with assault and battery. He alleges that Norah struck his wife, Mary Williams, on the head with a brick. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Norah. Mary Williams, the injured woman, made information against John McBride, Norah's husband, charging him with assault and battery. She alleges that he caught her by the throat, choked her and struck her with his fist. McBride was arrested and held for a hearing.

Struck with a Brick.

Mary Williams made information before Alderman Thomas, yesterday, charging Norah M'Bride with assault and battery. The parties are neighbors and reside in the Seventh ward. It appears that they got into a quarrel about something, when the accused picked up a brick and struck the prosecutrix on the forehead, seriously injuring her. The Alderman was sent for and took the information at the residence of the prosecutrix, who was unable to leave her bed in consequence of the injury. The accused was arrested and held to bail for her appearance at Court.

Serious Accident.

A serious accident occurred near Sharpsburg Sunday afternoon. It appears that Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Blakely were returning from a funeral and some distance this side of Sharpsburg, where the road runs along an embankment about twelve feet high, the horse stopped, commenced backing and before the occupants of the buggy could get out, it was precipitated over the embankment. Mrs. Blakely, by some means, fell under the buggy and the horse fell over on top of the buggy. Mrs. B. was seriously injured. She was removed to her residence on Pike street. Mr. Blakely fortunately escaped uninjured.

"All's Well That Ends Well."

An incident occurred at the office of Alderman Strain, Sunday morning, slightly illustrative of the caption under which we write. About eleven o'clock Saturday night the Alderman was aroused from his slumbers by an unnatural pull at the door bell, followed by a hurried and excited conversation on the outside. Hastily donning his habiliments the usually good natured Magistrate answered the "call" in person, slightly "ruffled" in temper by the interruption to "tired nature's sweet restorer," in which he had been indulging. The anger was but momentary, however, as it quickly vanished when upon opening the door he beheld a fair young lady scarcely out of her "teens." His well known gallantry coming to his aid, the momentary anger was at once dispelled, and conducting the lady to the parlor, announced his readiness to hear her complaints. Her story was a plain one and soon told. Only another instance of "misplaced confidence." The lady had "loved, not wisely, but too well," and the object of her affections had been recreant to the trust and confidence imposed in him. Her name was—well it don't matter what—she resided in McKeesport. She had there met and made the acquaintance of one John C. O'Connor, a dashing young man from Illinois. The acquaintance was mutually agreeable, and a friendship soon sprug up between the parties, which ripened into love. An engagement was the result, and after a few weeks the "dashing young man," tiring of his new made conquest, whose confidence he had betrayed, whose honor he had sullied, and whom he had robbed of her virtue, was about to desert her, return to his prairie home and leave her a deserted, ruined girl, to eke out a miserable existence in shame and disgrace.

The kind-hearted Alderman's sympathies were at once enlisted in behalf o" the fair young creature, who had been so cruelly deceived, and he at once resolved to "check-mate" the gentleman in his movements. Her information was taken, a warrant issued and placed in the hands of a reliable officer, who, receiving the proper directions from the lady and her friends as to the whereabouts of the accused, he at once arrested him. He was kindly cared for until Sunday morning, when at the first sound of the vesper bell, he was conducted to the office of the Alderman, where he met the lady. A private conversation followed, the result of which was an amicable settlement of the difficulty. The gentleman disclaimed any intention of deserting his affianced, and expressed his willingness to take her with him to his Western home. The preliminaries were soon arranged, and a wedding followed, and an hour later the now happy girl, in company with the idol of her heart, whom she now called husband, were aboard the western train, bound for Illinois. "All's well that ends well," and we hope for a happy termination of the affair.

MORTGAGES.

The City Park.

We stated some days since that the Park Committee had made a visit to the Winebiddle property with a view to purchasing it for a City Park, and that they were well pleased with the location. Since the visit we learn that Mr. Batchelor addressed a letter to Mr. Winebiddle relative to the matter, to which he received the following reply, dated the 14th instant:

MR. BATCHELOR: I have consulted with my friends about making the citizens of Pittsburgh a title for a Park on my plantation. I wish that you would inform the citizens of Pittsburgh that I will do so for any number of acres that I own, if they will prohibit any intoxicating liquors to be drank on it, and pay to me its value—it is well timbered and has a number of good springs on it, and a great quantity of stone coal, and about half a mile of rifle pits. The damage done by our Government will be paid back by them to the owners of the property in future.

I am perfectly sane, thank God, gentlemen. Yours, with respect,

PHILIP WINEBIDDLE.

Disgraceful Conduct of a Police Officer—He Fires Four Shots from a Revolver in a Street Car.

From an information made before Alderman Strain yesterday, it appears that there is at least one man on the police force who should not be there, and doubtless will not remain upon it long if the charges are fully substantiated. W. H. Evans and Wilson Burton each made information before the Alderman named charging John Weisenburn with felonious assault. It appears that the prosecutors had been attending a pic-nic beyond Lawrenceville on Thursday, and when returning got in a car at the station of the Citizens' Passenger Railway for the purpose of riding into the city. Weisenburn, a policeman, they allege was in the car, was intoxicated and behaving in a very unbecoming manner, using indecent and insulting language, notwithstanding there were a number of ladies in the car. The prosecutors in the above cases remonstrated with him, and endeavored to persuade him to keep quiet, whereupon he turned upon them, and, drawing his revolver, fired three shots at Evans and one at Burton. The ladies in the car became alarmed and ran out, as did also the prosecutors. The accused was arrested and held to bail in the sum of $2,500 for his appearance to answer a charge of felonious assault.

Such conduct would be disgraceful if perpetrated by a "rough," and becomes doubly so when a police officer, who is presumed to be a conservator of the peace, is the guilty one, and we feel assured will not be tolerated by the Police Committee or the Mayor. If the charge is substantiated, the accused may not only expect to lose his position on the force, but will also be severely punished by the law.

At Their Old Tricks.

For some months past the names of the Millers and Polk Harkins, which formerly were so frequent in the police reports, have not appeared in that connection, and we were of the opinion that they had either left the city or that a reformation had taken place; but we observe from the Mayor's docket that they are at their old tricks again. Yesterday evening Michael Hickey, an inoffensive Irishman, came to the Mayor's office and made information, charging "Sig" Miller, Frank Miller and Polk Harkins with assault and battery. He stated that he was on his way home to West Pittsburgh, and when going down to the ferryboat the accused "hooted" at him. He stopped and looked at them but did not make any reply. They then started after him, following him on the ferryboat, where one of them struck him over the eye with a boulder, knocking him down, and the others kicked and otherwise abused him. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the parties, and the police succeeded in arresting "Sig" Miller, who, after a hearing, was held to bail in the sum of five hundred dollars for his appearance at Court. The others had not been arrested up to a late hour last night, but the police were on their track and will probably have them this morning.

Fatal Accident.

An accident occurred in West Pittsburgh yesterday, resulting in the death of William Manyan, who was engaged in building the wall along the lower side of the Panhandle Railroad. It appears he was working at one of the derricks, used in raising the heavy stone with which the wall is being constructed, when one of the guy ropes parted, and the derrick fell upon him killing him instantly. He had been warned of the danger in the morning by the superintendent of the work and told to make it secure, but he paid no attention to the warning, and between twelve and one o'clock the accident occurred whereby he lost his life. Coroner Clawson was notified and repaired to the spot but was unable to procure a jury. The body was taken in charge by undertaker Aikin, and an inquest will be held at nine o'clock this morning. The deceased was about thirty years of age, and came to this country recently from Ireland, where he leaves a wife and one child.

GARDINER & STEWART.

The Hydraulic Cow Milker.

This wonderful machine, combining simplicity, strength and eminent utility, is fast earning for itself a national reputation, as well as golden opinions from all sorts of people. It is not too much to say that no other single invention ever called forth so many high encomiums from the press, or ever received such flattering endorsements from those for whom it is especially designed. It is just what every farmer and dairyman has been looking for, and now that it is within reach of all, it is not to be wondered at that the Hydraulic Cow Milker has created a grand field of enterprise for go-ahead men who are desirous of realizing a lucrative business on a moderate capital. The branch office with Messrs. Phelps, Park & Co., No. 10 St. Clair street, where this remarkable machine is on exhibition, is thronged daily with parties desirous of becoming interested in its sale; and no other field to-day presents such a golden opportunity to coin money as this.—Commercial.

Most Bitters of the present day that are loudly puffed through the newspapers as having great curative properties are vile compounds and base imposition, containing no medicinal virtues whatever, and are really very poor whisky beverages, and, instead of acting as a stimulant and tonic, have a tendency to weaken the stomach by entirely destroying the coating. The public should therefore be very cautious and purchase none but Roback's Stomach Bitters, which have stood the test as a remedial agent for many years, and are really as their name indicates, a stomach bitters and not a beverage. They combine the properties of the best tonic and a stimulant—a laxative, an efficient and anti-bilious agent and the best stomachic known to the world, and when taken in conjunction with Roback's Blood Pills, are the safest and surest preventive against all bilious derangements, thoroughly regulating the whole system and giving tone to the digestive organs.

They are highly recommended as an invigorating tonic to mothers while nursing, increasing the flow of milk, and for convalescents, to restore the prostration which always follows long-continued sickness, they are unsurpassed. No household should consider themselves safe from the ordinary maladies without these invaluable medicines. They can be obtained of any druggist. TTF&F

A True Story.

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever."—
The author of that was remarkably clever.
But the ladies all declare it their duty
To substitute "use" where he uses "beauty."
Then, when we interpret this saying, 'tis seen
To apply in full force to the F. F. machine.
I've seen a worn housewife who patiently toils
Though her multiplied task while labor despoils
Her face of its youth and beauty. Her mind
In the hurry and worry of tired hands can find
No food, new ideas or old thoughts to sustain;
She longs for a rest, but will not complain.

Through the long, weary hours by the window she sits,
And through her tired fingers the bright needle flits;
The song has died out from her lips and her heart—
The joy of her beauty makes haste to depart.
We turn away sadly—the sight gives us pain—
But passing, months after, that household again
We see 'neath the broad elms that stand by the door
The very same matrom we saw here before,
But how changed? How bright is her face and her look
Is chained not to work, but now rests on a book.

Our surprise, as she greets us, is readily seen,
And she says with a smile, "'Tis the New Weed Machine
That has wrought all this change. That furnishes time,
To read and to play—for music and rhyme.
Come into the house. Come, see what 'twill do!
Plain sewing, the lightest and heaviest, too;
'Tis so simple a child can use it as well
As I. 'Twill hem, tuck, quilt, cord and fell;
'Twill gather and sew on a ruffle; and bind—
('Tis the only machine that's quite perfect, you'll find)—
'Twill hem-stitch so nicely! It works like a charm!
There is only one cause I have to alarm—
It is this: My husband declares that he fears I must part
With this, as it rivals himself in my heart."

The Late Thaddeus Stevens—Address from Gov. Geary.

The Governor has just issued an address to the people of Pennsylvania, embodying an order as follows:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER, HARRISBURG, Aug. 14, 1868.—To the People of Pennsylvania: The death of the oldest member of the Pennsylvania delegation in Congress, Thaddeus Stevens, is an event which today shrouds the Commonwealth in gloom. Though not a native of the State, Thaddeus Stevens' most earnest efforts were always devoted to its interests and glory, and his name will ever be associated with all that is great in the progress of the last quarter of a century, as well as all that pertains to statesmanship in the struggle to preserve and perpetuate the American Union.

The people of Pennsylvania owe to the enlarged statesmanship of Thaddeus Stevens the initiation of a system of public improvements, which has since developed the vast resources of the State and rendered its prosperity a subject of wonder and admiration. To his wisdom and liberality we are indebted for our present magnificent system of free school education, by which the children of the poor are enabled to reach a degree of cultivation beyond which the wealthiest and most favored of other lands cannot go,

As a member of the Convention which revised the State Constitution; as a Representative in the lower branch of the Legislature, and as a Canal Commissioner, the late Thaddeus Stevens displayed the same great abilities which distinguished him as a jurist in the highest courts, and as a leader in the councils of the nation,

The memory of the services of the illustrious dead, of his many grand traits of character, of his great and cultivated intellect, of his irresistible abilities as a jurist and as a legislator, and of his generous and munificent charities, will never die. It will survive the recollection of man, and forever live in the records of our courts, our State and National Legislatures; in the history of our country, to which he was so ardently attached, and in the hearts of his countrymen, whom he so immortally honored and so faithfully served.

It is directed that all the departments of the State Government be closed after twelve o'clock on Monday next; that the National flag be displayed at half-mast at the same time on all the public buildings of the State.

GENUINE

GLYCERINE TOILET SOAP,

MANUFACTURED BY

PETER SQUIRE, 277 Oxford street London.

This Soap has been, by a peculiar process, freed from the excess of alkali almost invariably found even in the purest Soaps, and at the same time it is made to take up a large quantity of Glycerine (40 per cent). It is to this latter substance that it chiefly owes its soothing quality—softening the skin, preserving the complexion, preventing chapping and the unpleasant roughness experienced in cold weather. It is found most useful in alleviating the irritation produced by dryness of the skin. On account of its great purity it recommends itself to all persons that suffer from the use of common Soaps; for delicate skins it is the only Soap that can be tolerated. It is particularly useful for cleansing diseased skins, where the irritation produced by ordinary Soaps causes so much inconvenience. It is the most agreeable Shaving Soap that can be used, leaving the skin soft and comfortable. The Soaps usually sold as Glycerine Soaps contain little or no Glycerine. It is only necessary to apply the tongue to the surface and the genuine will be distinguished by the sweet taste. Agent,

Corner Smithfield and Fourth Streets.
